Protecting Our Members Through Electric Safety Education

Electric Safety Education
At San Bernard Electric Cooperative, we are committed to protecting the people and communities we serve. That’s why SBEC employees collectively log more than 11,000 hours of safety training each year. We want our employees to be safe around electricity, and our members to know the importance of working and playing it safe around power lines and electrical equipment.

Working with area schools, youth organizations, civic groups, and emergency responders, our safety education program communicates the hazards of being around power lines and substations, as well as general safety habits.

Youth Presentations
An award winning, interactive display called Hazard Hamlet is the center piece for youth presentations. The display highlights the dangers of coming into contact with electric power lines or of being careless while using electric appliances.

First Responders (Fire, EMS, Law Enforcement)
This presentation features a First Responders and Electrical Hazards DVD, as well as a PowerPoint presentation.

Adult Presentations
Spotlighting a variety of visuals specific to the group, this presentation includes a DVD called Contractor Beware and a Safe Electricity video from the Energy Education Council, in addition to Power-Point support.

Learn More
Schedule a safety presentation for your group with SBEC.

Contact John Spiess in Member Services at jspiess@sbec.org or call (800) 364-3171.